

NORTHWEST CIVIL WAR COUNCIL

The Northwest Civil War Council (NCWC) is a non-profit organization made up of people who share a strong interest in the American Civil War. We believe that this conflict, as savage and tragic as it was, still represents the centerpiece of our history and has important effects for us as a people even in the 21st century.

We try to demonstrate – in the most accurate ways possible – both the military and civilian lives of Americans during the mid-19th century. We show battles and tactics with all branches of service represented (infantry, cavalry and artillery). After the battles there are medical demonstrations to help the public understand the terrible aftermath of a war that took the lives of over 620,000 American citizens.

LEARN ABOUT

Life of a Soldier

Cannons

Toys & Games

Medical Techniques

Civilian Life

Music & Literature

Cavalry Movements

Clothing & Innovations

HOW TO JOIN

We are always looking for people who have a passion for history to join the NCWC! Each unit has resources and mentors to help you get started. We advise visiting with different units to decide which is the best fit for you and/or your family. Forms can be filled out online

WWW.NWCWC.NET